Dear Law Faculty and Staff,

This is the second newsletter that the LLTC is sending out with information to support faculty teaching and scholarship. As I know that many of our staff also engage in teaching and scholarship, I am including them in this e-mail as well. This newsletter will come out every two weeks and will include calls for papers, LLTC sponsored events/training opportunities, grant opportunities as they come up, and occasional tips that may help you with your research.

For this fortnight’s newsletter, the first part is a list of LLTC events that lists all currently planned events for faculty that the LLTC is planning so far this semester. Second, I have included a Tech Tip for you. Third, over the next few weeks, the LLTC is moving books in Reserves (behind the Circulation Desk) into smaller, more browsable collections to increase ease of use. One of these collections is the Faculty Support Collection, which will have resources on university teaching, publishing, educational technology, and other issues of interest to a law faculty. I have highlighted one of these books for you. Fourth, under the heading “Call for Papers”, is a list of all calls for papers and research presentation opportunities for law faculty that we have put together for you, in order from soonest to expire to those that you have more time to put something together for. Fifth, I have included information on symposiums and conferences that are looking for program ideas and speakers. Sixth, I have included calls for reviewers. And seventh and lastly, I have included calls for papers for your students. I have also attached a guide forwarded to me from Kathy Cerminara and prepared by Marcia McCormick of St. Louis University on submitting proposals for SEALS.

I hope that you find this newsletter helpful and welcome feedback on how it can better serve your needs. We will be upgrading the format within the next month.

Warm Regards,
Becka Rich
Senior Associate Director
Law Library and Technology Center
LLTC EVENTS

9/16/2014 – 11:00 am-1:00 pm – How to Research in Health Sciences Databases for Law Professors – the HPD Librarians are coming over to demonstrate the fabulous and numerous resources we have available for researching health policy, bioethics, medical malpractice, best practices in medicine, and scientific studies. Lunch will be provided. Seminar 2. Please RSVP here: http://nova.campusguides.com/laf.

9/19/2014 – 11:00 am-1:00 pm—WestlawNext and Westlaw Update – Westlaw will demonstrate new Westlaw features and how to do familiar functions now that Westlaw Classic is no longer accessible. Lunch will be provided. Faculty Terrace. Please RSVP to Becka Rich (richr@nsu.law.nova.edu).

9/23/2014 – 11:00 am-1:00 pm – Introduction to Non-Law Academic Publishing: How to Publish in Health and Social Science Journals – George Woodward, a publisher of Elsevier’s Nutrition and Dermatology journals and Laurie P. Dringus, Ph.D., the editor of The Internet and Higher Education, will come and talk about the publication process and cycle for health and social science journals. Elsevier is a major publisher of health and social science journals. Lunch will be provided. Faculty Terrace. Please RSVP here: http://nova.campusguides.com/laf.

10/2/2014—11:00 am-1:00 pm – Company, Industry, and Competitive Intelligence Research – Susan Berkman, the business librarian, will come and talk about what business resources are available to the faculty for research and publication. Lunch will be provided. Faculty Terrace. Please RSVP here: http://nova.campusguides.com/laf.

TECH TIPS

If you are having problems with using Lexis following their update on Monday, you may need to update your cookies. Instructions on how to do so from Lexis are below:
Open Firefox Menu (for Macs)

In the menu bar, click the Firefox option.

Open Preferences

Click the Preferences link.

Open Privacy

Click the Privacy tab.

Clear Your Recent History
Under the History heading, click the clear your recent history link.

Select Cache
Check the Cache checkbox. You can select checkboxes for other browser information to clear as well.

Clear Cache

[Clear Now]

Click the Clear Now button.

Once cleared, the Clear All History window will disappear and you will return to the main Firefox Preferences menu.

Cookies:

- Click Remove Individual Cookies
- Search for Lexis
- Click Remove all
Safari:

(https://discussions.apple.com/thread/5054764)

Empty Caches

1. Safari > Preference > Advanced
   Checkmark the box for “Show Develop menu in menu bar”.
   Develop menu will appear in the Safari menu bar.
   Click Develop and select “Empty Caches” from the dropdown

Clear Cookies:

1. Safari > Preference > Advanced
2. Click Privacy
3. Click Details
4. Search for Lexis
5. Click Remove All

Cookies:
Deleting Cookies/Cache in Google Chrome:

1. Click the Chrome menu [≡] on the browser toolbar.

2. Select Setting.

3. Select History from menu on left.

4. In the dialog that appears, select the checkboxes noted below.

5. Click Clear browsing data.
Deleting Cookies/Cache in Firefox (for PCs):

1. Click the menu button ☰ and choose Options

2. Select the Advanced panel.

3. Click on the Network tab.

4. In the Cached Web Content section, click Clear Now.
Deleting Cookies/Cache in Internet Explorer (instructions may slightly vary by version) – This is proven for IE8:

1. Select Tools.
2. Select Browsing History from menu.
3. In the dialog box, check the items noted and click Delete
FACULTY SUPPORT COLLECTION HIGHLIGHT

In this space, I will be highlighting one resource from the collection that might be helpful to you in the future. If you are interested in checking it out, please let me know and I will arrange for the book to be put in your mailbox (and create a waiting list if there is interest by more people than we have copies). This issue’s highlight:

With only 81 pages of core text, this short resource walks you through steps and a plan to painlessly increase your scholarly output. The book includes information on making time to write, writing, revising, polishing, and publishing using examples and anecdotes. It also includes information on how to form a writing group and offers suggestions for reviewing other people’s work.

CALLS FOR PAPERS

ABOUT TO EXPIRE

• Deadline: September 20, 2014. June 2015 Special Issue on Bioethics and the Right to Health. Looking for papers that explore the relationship between bioethics and the right to health, particularly in a global health context. Papers will be peer-reviewed. They are also looking for letters, research, case studies, or fieldwork summaries and essays for publication as essays or blog posts. http://www.hhrjournal.org/submissions/call-for-submissions-upcoming-issues/

• Deadline: September 26, 2014. Presentation of Scholarly Works in Progress. New England Consortium of Academic Support Professionals Conference. The work must be related to law school academic support or bar study/passage. Proposals may be submitted in Word or PDF format. Proposals must include 1) Name and title of presenter, 2) Law school, 3) Address, e-mail address, and phone number, 4) Title of work in progress to be presented, 5) Abstract of work in progress of 500 word or less, 6) Statement regarding status of the work (in outline, early draft, or near completion), and 7) Media/technology needs. Please submit to morlen@law.wne.edu.

• Deadline: September 30, 2014. The (Comparative) Constitutional Law of Private-Public Arbitration. Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law. Papers should address in the form of national reports or regional comparative analyses how a specific jurisdiction or group of countries or regional organization approaches and regulations private-public arbitration and how they ensure that the public interest is safeguarded when public entities agree to arbitrate disputes. Looking for papers on jurisdictions representative of as many of the world’s legal systems as possible, particularly underrepresented systems like those of Latin America, Africa, and Asia. Papers should be by specialists in arbitration with expertise in constitutional and administrative law or vice versa. http://www.mpil.de/files/pdf3/CfP_Comp_Const_Law_of_PPA8.pdf
• Deadline: September 30, 2014. Legalities and Legacies: The Past, Present, and Future of the Palestinian Mandate in International Law. Hebrew University of Jerusalem and Columbia Law School. Looking for papers that discuss, broadly, one of these themes: 1) The Mandate System: Historical and Legal Perspectives, 2) The Legal and Historical Specificities of the Palestine Mandate, 3) The Legal Significance of Practice Developed under the Palestine Mandate, 4) Beyond Palestine: The Mandate and the International Legal Status of the Jewish People, 5) The Palestine Mandate: The Impact of/on Subsequent Legal Developments, and 6) The Palestine Mandate: An Enduring Legal Significance for the World Community and International Law. Deadline above is for a 1-2 page proposal for an article and presentation plus a brief CV which includes a list of publications. http://www.law.uga.edu/calling-all-papers/node/33.

• Deadline: Rolling (but as soon as possible). The Business Lawyer is looking for submissions for v. 70. Exclusive submission required; submissions are peer reviewed. Submit to Diane Babal, Production Manager, diane.babal@americanbar.org. Questions go to Editor-in-Chief Professor Gregory Duhl, gregory.duhl@wmitchell.edu.

IN THE NEXT MONTH

• Deadline: October 1, 2014. BioIP New Scholars Workshop. American Society for Law, Medicine, and Ethics. Topics include the intersection of biotechnology, life sciences, the FDA, and IP, broadly defined. Selected papers will be critiqued at the conference. http://www.bu.edu/law/events/upcoming/

• Deadline: October 1, 2014. Workshop on Shifting Foundations: Family Law’s Response to Changing Families. AALS. Looking for proposals for presentations and papers for two plenary and three concurrent sessions, including presentations on teaching family law, family law and inequality, and family options. For presentations, submit a 1000-or-less word summary to 15familylaw@aals.org. If you wish to present a work in progress on either 1) Relationship Pluralism or 2) Family Law and … (intersection of family law with other areas of law), submit a 1000-word-or-less description to 15familylaw@aals.org and indicate if you are interested in session 1 or 2.

• Deadline: October 6, 2014. Bridge and Hot Topic Program Proposals. AALS Annual Meeting. Looking for panel presentations on topics of a timely and important issue of general interest. Programs may also involve many subject interests or multidisciplinary, not usual topics. They should not overlap with any Annual Meeting Programs. https://memberaccess.aals.org/eweb//DynamicPage.aspx?Site=AALS&WebKey=bbb4d611-4c6d-4c9e-9fac-eff5c2273301

• Deadline: October 15, 2014. Law’s Promise and Law’s Pathos in the Global North and Global South. Law and Society Association. Looking for papers that can either align with the conference’s theme or the organization’s. http://www.lawandsociety.org/Seattle2015/seattle2015.html

• Deadline: October 15, 2014. How Does the Landscape Evolve? 9th Symposium on Chemical, Biological, Nuclear, Radiological, and Explosives Protection Threats. Looking for papers on:

  "* International cooperation, disarmament and arms control treaties, national implementation, awareness,
  * Prevention, countermeasures, preparedness, recovery,
  * Protection, decontamination and medical countermeasures,
  * Malicious use of toxic industrial chemicals,

• Deadline: October 20, 2014. International Symposium on Freedom of Information, and Governmental Transparency, in the Open Government Era. University of Paris 1 Pantheon-Sorbonne. Looking for papers on what information is available through open records requests, “the necessity for freedom of information in democratic societies, and the dilemma caused by undue governmental surveillance and data collection against citizens.” Accepted papers will be expected to be 10-15 pages and are anticipated to be published by the Sorbonne in book format. Abstracts and paper proposals should go to William Gilles: William.gilles@univ-paris1.fr.

• Deadline: October 31, 2014. Eighth Annual Feminist Legal Theory Conference. University of Baltimore School of Law’s Center on Applied Feminism. Theme is “Applied Feminism and Work.” Looking for papers exploring these questions: “What impact has feminist legal theory had on the workplace? How does work impact gender and vice versa? How might feminist legal theory respond to issues such as stalled immigration reform, economic inequality, pregnancy accommodation, the low-wage workforce, women’s access to economic opportunities, family-friendly work environments, paid sick and family leave, decline in unionization, and low minimum wage rates? What sort of support should society and law provide to ensure equal employment opportunities that provide for security for all? How do law and feminist legal theory conceptualize the role of the state and the private sector in relation to work? Are there rights to employment and what are their foundations? How will the recent Supreme Court BURWELL V. HOBBY LOBBY and HARRIS V. QUINN decisions impact economic opportunities for women? How will the new EEOC guidance on pregnancy accommodation and the YOUNG V. UPS upcoming Supreme Court decision affect rights of female workers?” http://www.feministlawprofessors.com/2014/08/cfp-applied-feminism-work/

IN THE FUTURE

• Deadline: November 1, 2014. Younger Comparativists Committee. American Society of Comparative Law. Looking for papers on any subject in public or private comparative law from faculty who have been in the profession 10 years or less. There is also a student prize available at the conference for a comparative law paper. http://www.thefacultylounge.org/2014/09/call-for-papers-junior-comparative-law-scholars.html.

• Deadline: November 17, 2014. Society for Environmental Law and Economics 2015 Conference. Looking for papers which examine the intersection between law, economics, and environmental issues. Papers may focus on local or international issues and may be theoretical or empirical. Of particular interest are papers that focus on how to balance sustainability and competition or that answer the question “should competition authorities allow for restrictions of competition that benefit the environment?” http://envlawecon.wordpress.com/.

• Deadline: November 24, 2014. Critical Issues for Boards and Institutional Investors in 2015. Corporate Governance Symposium. John L. Weinberg Center for Corporate Governance. Alfred Lerner College of Business and Economics. University of Delaware. Looking for submissions on “topics within the field of corporate governance that are of critical importance in 2015 for boards of directors and institutional investors with a focus on: board and committee composition and structure, board and/or management succession planning, dual role of the CEO/Chairman, the board’s role in monitoring risk, executive and director compensation, shareholder engagement, the role and regulatory issues relating to the proxy advisory industry, and corporate governance reform measures associated with the foregoing.” Papers should be submitted to Louisa Cresson (Weinberg-corp-gov@udel.edu) in PDF format with the file name Last name in all caps, underscore, shortened name of paper, period, pdf (e.g. DOE_Shareholder Engagement.pdf).

• Deadline: December 1, 2014. “Law, Religion, and American Health Care.” 2015 Annual Conference. Petrie-Flom Center for Health Law Policy, Biotechnology, and Bioethics at Harvard Law School. Looking for a 1 page abstract on a paper you plan to present. The paper should relate to the conference's theme and must link health care, law, and religion. The conference aims to: “(1) identify the various ways in which law intersects with religion and health care in the United States; (2) understand the role of law in creating or mediating conflict between religion and health care; and (3) explore potential legal solutions to allow religion and health care to simultaneously flourish in a culturally diverse nation.” http://petrieflom.law.harvard.edu/events/details/2015-annual-conference.

• Deadline: December 1, 2014. American College of Consumer Financial Services Lawyers Annual Writing Competition. “Awards include a cash prize ($2500 for books; $2000 for articles, reviews, or book chapters; and $1000 for student work), certificate or other token of recognition, and travel expenses to attend the College’s annual dinner.” Prizes are awarded for 1 book, 1 student case note or comment, and 1 book chapter/book review/publishable article per year, depending on the quality of submissions. Looking for submissions that address some aspect of consumer financial services law. http://www.accfsl.org/writing-competition/.
• Deadline: December 15, 2014. Fourth Annual Junior Faculty Forum for International Law. Open to all international legal scholars who are in no more than their 6th year in an academic position. http://annualjuniorfacultyforumil.org/

• Deadline: January 12, 2015. Climate Change, Disasters, and Displacement. Forced Migration Review. Looking for practice-oriented submissions which focus on displacement and address the theme of the issue. http://www.fmreview.org/climatechange-disasters

• Deadline: February 1, 2015. Human Rights Essay Award 2015. Academy on Human Rights and Humanitarian Law. American University Washington College of Law. Two awards: one for best English Essay and one for best Spanish essay. Awards consists of scholarship to summer Program of Advanced Studies, housing in university dorms, and a per diem for living expenses. The best articles may be published in the American University International Law Review. Purpose of the award is to increase international human rights scholarship. www.wcl.american.edu/hracademy/hraward.cfm

• Deadline: Rolling through 2015. Call for Papers on Care for Older Adults. Health Affairs Journal. Looking for articles on care and management of multiple chronic conditions in older adults. They are looking for work on this topic in the full range of care

- Deadline: Rolling. A new project has launched at the University of Leeds - Cultivating Innovation - led by Professors Gregory Radick and Graeme Gooday. Funded by the Arts and Humanities Research Council, Cultivating Innovation aims to increase public awareness of the roles played by intellectual property in contemporary science, with a particular emphasis on the plant sciences and agriculture. Over the next 12 months the project researcher is going to be working closely with key figures in industry and plant breeding, while attempting to build new collaborations with those working in public-policy, law, or organisations representative of civil society. To learn more, and to follow the project blog, please visit: www.cultivatinginnovation.org. If you would like to ask any questions, or suggest people/institutions that we might collaborate with, please email the project researcher, Dominic Berry: d.berry@leeds.ac.uk.

- Deadline: Rolling. Asia Pacific Law Review. Focus on law in the Asia Pacific region. This is a double-blind peer review law journal. http://www.cityu.edu.hk/slw/aplr/call_for_paper.htm

- Deadline: Rolling. Lawyer & Statesman (new magazine by the National Jurist). Looking for articles on management/leadership in the workplace, legal education, and career advancement. Send submissions to jack@cypressmagazines.com.

- Deadline: Rolling. Richmond Journal of Law and the Public Interest. Looking for articles on laws that affect citizens in Virginia or at a national level. Also looking for articles for its Symposium issue which is about the 50th anniversary of the Civil Rights Act. http://rjolpi.richmond.edu/.

SYMPOSIUMS AND CONFERENCES

- Deadline: As soon as possible. If you are interested in a discussion group at SEALS on open government and transparency which will have European participants, please e-mail Russell Weaver (russ.weaver@louisville.edu).

- Deadline: September 19, 2014. Moot Court Conference. LWI Moot Court Committee. Looking for presentation proposals. Please submit to Elizabeth Inglehart, e-inglehart@law.northwestern.edu.

- Deadline: October 6, 2014. Global Legal Writing Skills Committee. Legal Writing Institute. Looking for 1 paragraph descriptions of proposed 45-60 minute webinars. Looking particularly for proposals targeted at helping legal writing professors teach international law students. “Topics may include cross cultural competencies, overcoming linguistic challenges, designing appropriate curricula, creating suitable materials, or any other topic relating to teaching international law students.” Proposals should be

Deadline: October 31, 2014 (earlier preferred; submissions on or before this date receive preference). Southeastern Association of Law Schools. Now accepting proposals for panels or discussions groups for the 2015 meeting which will be local to us at the Boca Raton Resort and Club. Guidelines to assist you in formulating a proposal are attached. Submit here: http://sealslawschools.org/submissions/.

Deadline: December 5, 2014. “Revisiting the Standard 1L Curriculum.” Fifteenth Annual Rocky Mountain Legal Writing Conference. Looking for 25 minute or 50 minute presentation proposals. To submit a presentation proposal, please send the following information to Wendy Adele Humphrey at wendy.humphrey@ttu.edu and Susie Salmon at salmon@email.arizona.edu: 1. Contact information for all presenters; 2. Title of presentation; 3. Brief (one-paragraph) description of the presentation; 4. Time needed for presentation (25 minutes or 50 minutes); and 5. Technology needs for the presentation.

CALLS FOR REVIEWERS

Deadline: As soon as possible. Volume 12 of Legal Communication and Rhetoric: JALWD. Looking for peer reviewers; low time commitment (2-3 hours). “If you are interested/willing, please send an email to jalwd@alwd.org with a subject line that includes the phrase “peer review” somewhere in it (this is for email filtering purposes)”. They want to know how long you have been teaching legal writing and a sentence or two that might help match you to articles.

GRANTS AND AWARDS

• Deadline: September 19, 2014. Provost’s Research and Scholarship Award. Recognizes “innovative and sustained activities in scholarly pursuits in support of NSU’s mission to foster intellectual inquiry, academic excellence, research, and a dynamic learning environment.” You can self-nominate. For more information: http://www.nova.edu/cwis/vpaa/provost-award.html.

• Deadline: October 15, 2014. Richard and Diane Cummins Legal History Research Grant for 2015. $10,000 stipend to support short-term historical research using the Special Collections at GW’s Jacob Burns Law Library. These special collections include a historic French collection, Roman law, canon law, church-state relations, and international law. One candidate is selected for the award each year. The candidate can be a doctoral, LLM, or SJD candidate, a postdoctoral researcher, a faculty member, or an independent scholar. For more information on the grant, go to: http://www.law.gwu.edu/CumminsGrant. For more information on the collections, please go to http://www.law.gwu.edu/SpecialCollections.

• Deadline: October 27, 2014. Borchard Foundation Center on Law and Aging 2015 Academic Research Grants. Four grants of $20,000 each are awarded. They are looking for grant proposals which “further research or scholarship about new or improved public policies, laws, and/or programs relating to the elderly; or, anticipate the need for and recommend new public policies, laws, and/or programs for the elderly necessitated by changes in the number and demographics of the country’s and the world’s elderly populations by advances in science and technology, by changes in the health care system, or by other developments.” For more information: http://www.borchardcla.org/.

CALLS FOR PAPERS FOR STUDENTS

• Deadline: December 5, 2014. ABA Health Law Student Writing Competition. Award includes publication in The Health Lawyer, $500, airfare, per diem, and hotel for 2 nights to attend the Emerging Issues conference. Looking for “authorship of superior literary effort that advances and serves the interests and understanding of an emerging issue in health law.” http://www.americanbar.org/content/dam/aba/administrative/healthlaw/hls_law_student_writing_guidelines.authcheckdam.pdf.

• Deadline: January 15, 2015. Jameson Crane III Disability and the Law Writing Competition. Thomas Jefferson School of Law. Open to all currently enrolled law students, medical students, and doctoral candidates. Looking for papers on any topic related to disability law. First prize is $1500 and a chance at publication in the Thomas Jefferson Law Review. 2nd prize (awarded twice) is $1000. http://www.tjsl.edu/cranewritingcompetition.
