ILLIAD: THE ODYSSEY FOR FINDING NON-NSU RESOURCES

The quest is easier than you think! Find out how to gain access to articles, books, DVDs and more through our Interlibrary Loan department and also how your librarians have a few more tricks up their sleeves for finding the “unfindable.”

ILL – Interlibrary Loan.

Local NSU students, faculty, staff, as well as public patrons that have an NSU library card are eligible to request books and journal articles that are not available at NSU. The Alvin Sherman Library, Research, and Information Technology Center uses Interlibrary Loan (ILL) to borrow materials from other libraries whenever possible. Because of the time required for processing and delivery from the lending library, it can take as little as three days to as much as two weeks or longer to obtain some materials, depending on the availability or type of material requested. Due to these factors, you should begin your research as soon as possible to allow for any unexpected delays. NSU Libraries abide by the 1976 U.S. Copyright Law, which governs the borrowing and use of photocopies and other reproductions of copyrighted materials.

Types of materials you can request: article, book, book chapter, conference paper, dissertation, DVD & more!

If you would like to renew a book that we borrowed from another library you must renew via ILLiad three days prior to the due date. Please follow the renewal directions provided on the cover of the book.
ILL Resources:

The information below includes important links and information about ILL through the NSU Libraries.

Login to your iLLiad Account:
- https://illiad.library.nova.edu/

Important information:
- Electronic articles can sometimes be received in as little as 24 hours!
- If you get a notice that your request came back unfilled, email your Oceanography Librarians at oclibrary@nova.edu, and they can often find an alternative copy for you!
- You can request a renewal 3 days prior to your due date, but it is not guaranteed – the lending library has to approve it.
- If you receive an item with a blue slip on the front, you must return the item with that slip!
- FindIt! Button in NSU Library Databases:
  - FindIt is a tool that is available in NSU databases to help you locate the document once you found the citation. If the document is available electronically, FindIt will provide links to the full-text articles. Other options include a link to NovaCat to see if the document is available in the NSU catalog, NovaCat, as well as a link to ILLiad to request the document through Document Delivery/Interlibrary Loan. You will need an NSU password to be able to access these services.
