Access to electronic resources varies depending on whether:
- you are an active NSU student, faculty, or staff;
- a registered Broward County patron; registered alumni;
- a University School patron;
- an HPD Clinical Faculty member;
Click on the “login” button at the top right:
Log in with your NSU email and SIMTICS password you created:
To add modules to your library, after you have logged in, click on “shop” to display the shop menu:
Scroll down and select a topic from the right-hand side:
The first step is to select the “tutorial” module and add it to your account:
Once selected, hover over the tutorial module listing and click on the green shopping cart icon:
A confirmation message will appear: “item added to your cart.” Browse the shop (use browser back button) using the topics menu on the left-hand side. Hover over the desired module listing and click on the green shopping cart icon to add to your cart:
If you want to choose more modules, repeat the above steps. When you have selected all the modules you need for now, click “go to checkout”:
You can also view your shopping cart by clicking on the shopping cart icon at the top right of the page. The icon will also indicate how many items are in your cart:
Check that your required modules are in the shopping cart. Click “checkout” to complete the transaction and the system will add these modules to your account:
